The Boshell Diabetes and Metabolic Diseases Research Program at Auburn University is dedicated to improving the lives of all people with diabetes through world-class basic science investigation into the etiology and treatment of diabetes and other metabolic diseases.

The 11th annual Research Day, on Friday, February 16, 2018, brings together experts from around the United States to present current topics related to diabetes and the role of obesity in its development. The meeting will be highlighted by research presentations throughout the day and evening.

Don't miss this opportunity to attend and participate in this exciting event. Poster and oral presentation submissions are being accepted.

Registration is free for Boshell program members, and $125 for nonmembers. Students and postdoctoral fellows may attend at no cost.

Plenary Lecture:

Dr. Kamal Rahmouni
Professor of Pharmacology
University of Iowa
Carver College of Medicine

Banquet Speaker:
